

Men Whom Baseball Has Made Rich.

Fred Clarke, Leader of the Pirates, Who Invested His Cash in Land and is Now One of the Wealthy Men of the National Game.

For 17 years Fred Clarke of the Pirates has been manager of a big league baseball club. His service makes him the dean of a corps, famous as about the shiftest job holders on earth.

Having spent his major league career with the Pittsburgh team—where Barney Dreyfuss says he can remain just as long as he wants to—it may be accepted that Clarke is a veteran ball player.

But National league players will tell you that he is the most coltish veteran that ever faced a pitcher and that no left fielder in the league today has anything upon Frederick Carleton Clarke.

Clarke is well fixed, which is the English synonym for wealthy. He owns enough Kansas acres to enclose all the major leagues and a great many minor league parks as well, and said acres are populated with beef and grain.

Clarke is a modern farmer, or rancher, whichever you prefer; he chuffs around his pastures and fields in an automobile whenever he wants to get over the place in one day.

Clarke, being a person of commercial mind, believes that the city, Pittsburgh in particular, is the place to do business in, but insists that the country is the only place to live. So when he quits the game he will retire to his broad acres and help prove that the man who asked, "what's the matter with Kansas?" never lived in the state.

Clarke has won four pennants and a world's series with the Pirates and aspires to land another world's title before throwing aside his glove and bat.

He started in life as the pilot of a grocery wagon, but began to shine in the national game before he could rattle off the price of groceries glibly. For years Clarke has been paid not less than $10,000 a year by Barney Dreyfuss, and those who profess to know say his stipend has ranked with that of McGraw and other fancy priced managers for the past five years.

TEN HITS GOOD FOR TEN RUNS IN ONE INNING

Detroit Gets a Six Run Lead But Athletics Break Loose and Manage to Shove Over 21 Runs During Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—After Detroit had piled up a six run lead in the first two innings Tuesday afternoon, Philadelphia hammered the ball all over the field and won the game by 21 to eight.

Scoring for the home team began in the second session when ten hits and two passes off Williams, a left-hander, netted ten runs, making a record in the matter of safeties and rallies for this city this season. Comstock, a right-hander, took Williams' place in the third inning and he was also hammered hard, from one to three runs being made by Philadelphia in each of the last six innings.

Walsh led in the attack with three singles, a double and a pass in six trips to the plate, and he also scored five runs. McInnis fattened his batting average by making four singles in six times at bat, while E. Murphy, Oldring, Baker and Barry each made three hits. Crawford solved Penock's delivery for a home run, a year.

C. A. C. Basketball Men To Reorganize This Week Plan 20 Game Schedule

Members of the Commercial Athletic club are planning to reorganize their basketball team for the coming season and will hold a meeting before the end of the week to make definite arrangements for organization and practice.

The schedule is not yet arranged, owing to the fact that many of the teams with which they expect games are yet unorganized, and it is probable that the complete schedule will not be announced before Nov. 1. The management is planning to book about 20 games for the season, with probably about six to be played out of town. Some new material will be seen in the lineup this year, as a few of last year's men will be unable to get back into the game. H. J. Fauber, A. Knox, Carl Winkler and Victor Paxson of last season's team will be on the floor again this year. R. D. Talcott, who has been kept out of the game for the past three years on account of a bad knee, and who in the meantime, has acted as manager for the club, will be seen in the game when the season opens. Charles Steele, last season's star center, may not be in the lineup this year. Lyle Harris, one of the strongest men on last year's squad, will not play, having left the city for the winter.

This will leave much new material to be tried out, and some uncertainty as to what quality of team may be developed, yet it is thought that the aggregation when rounded into form will compare favorably with that of last year.

YANKS MAKE IT TWO IN THREE WITH NAPS Falkenberg Is Routed While Caldwell Holds Visitors to a Quartet of Hits.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Caldwell's superb pitching enabled New York to make it two out of three from Cleveland in the final series, between these clubs this season. Caldwell held the visitors to four hits and won by a score of three to one. Not a Cleveland batter reached third until with two out in the ninth no attempt was made to stop Jackson stealing second and third. He scored on Johnson's single.

The New Yorks won in the first inning when they knocked Falkenberg out of the box for the second day in succession. Mals led off with a single and Holden walked. Both runners moved up on Cree's sacrifice hit, and scored on Williams' single. After Williams went out stealing, Zelder and Gilhooly hit singles. Zelder relieved Falkenberg and Peckinpah's single scored Zelder. Gilhooly wrenched his leg badly on this play and had to be carried to the bench. However, he was fixed up by the club trainer and was able to walk to the club house.

Gossett, the New York catcher, also was injured, having a finger split trying to stop a wild pitch. Gregg was effective after relieving Falkenberg. He yielded six passes, but New York was unable to score on him, after the first inning. Cleveland . . . 000 000 001—1 4 0 New York . . . 300 000 00—3 9 1 Falkenberg, Gregg, Blanding and Carlsch, O'Neil; Caldwell and Gossett; Sweeney, Umpires—O'Loughlin and Connolly.

BROWNS GRAB ANOTHER GAME AT WASHINGTON

Groom Pitches Good Ball But Two Wild Pitches and a Boot Loses the Game.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—St. Louis made it two out of three in its last series of the season with Washington by winning Tuesday five to three. Two wild pitches and an error were responsible for four of St. Louis' runs. Although they batted Groom hard the visitors only earned one run. Taylor and Mitchell held Washington safe, the former giving way in the eighth for a pinch hitter.

The score was three to three when St. Louis went to bat in the ninth. With two out Bissland beat out an infield hit. Wares then hit a high fly to Morgan who muffed it. Bissland taking third and the batter second. Agnew then singled and scored both. Washington got two on in the last half of the ninth but the hit needed to bring them in was not forthcoming. Agnew was put out of the game in the ninth for disputing a decision of Umpire Dineen. St. Louis . . . 100 010 012—5 9 1 Washington . . . 001 002 000—3 8 2 Taylor, Mitchell and Agnew, McAllester; Groom and Henry. Umpires—Dineen and Sheridan.

TWO HITS ALL SAINTS CAN GET OFF DAVIS

Columbus Hits the Ball Hard and Have No Trouble Winning by 6 to 0 Score.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24.—St. Paul made but two hits off Davis Tuesday and was shut out by Columbus, 6 to 0. Brandt, although not hit hard, was wild and most of the Columbus runs were scored on bases on balls. Catcher Smith's play was a feature of the game. Manager Tinker of the Cincinnati Nationals was here on a scouting trip. Columbus . . . 212 100 00—6 7 0 St. Paul . . . 000 000 000—0 2 4 Davis and Smith; Brandt and James. Umpires—Handiboe and Johnson.

RED MURRAY, OF NEW YORK NATIONALS.

"Red" Jack Murray, the great throwing right fielder of the New York Giants, who was the star of his team during the last world's series. "Red" Jack is one of the most accurate throwing outfielders in the big leagues. He is also a dangerous batter, after an injury to his right arm, McGraw anticipates that Murray's rifle like arm will cut down many an Athletic runner in the big quarrel next month. Murray is an old Notre Dame man.

OLD N. D. PLAYERS OUT FOR PRACTICE

Dorais and Berger, Who Were Part of the 1912 Team, Take Up Work With Squad.

The football team at Notre Dame is fast rounding into shape under the coaching of Athletic Director Jesse Harper. Line practice, stiff signal drills and short scrimmages are rapidly training the men for the opening game on Oct. 4th. Ex-Capt. Dorais and "Heine" Berger, last year's star half back, reported Tuesday afternoon. McLaughlin and Elward, members of the second string last year, arrived at the university Monday evening. It is probable that Feeney, Yund and Harvat, all monogram men, may yet return.

In the daily scrimmages Eichenlaub has shown that he has lost none of his old skill at line plunging. Finnegan and Kane are doing well at quarter back, while Voelkers, the husky South Bender, has been used constantly at center. The linemen are having special practice daily and Noel Dunbar, assistant coach last year, will soon take charge of this part of the team.

GOALS FROM THE FIELD

Yale and Harvard are the first big eastern football teams to get into action this year. They open their seasons Wednesday, the former meeting Wesleyan at New Haven and the latter opposing Ursinus on the home field in Ithaca, N. Y. It was expected that Yale would use 20 players Wednesday in order to give as many members practice as possible. The coaches said they would pay special attention to the work of Wilson, the new quarterback, who is heralded as the find of the season. Wednesday's contest is the first under the new coaching system at Yale, which dispenses with the old process of having a graduating captain become the next coach.

Other football games scheduled for Wednesday are: Carlisle vs. Lebanon Valley at Carlisle and Albert vs. Lehigh at Bethlehem, Pa.

A conference of nearly 150 football players, coaches and officials was held at the Manhattan hotel last night for the purpose of interpreting the 1913 rules. Walter Camp, president. The most important ruling was that in cases of the inside kick the attacking players behind the ball when it is kicked not only are inside and ineligible to catch the ball before it touches the opponent, but also may try to get the ball even should a member of the defending team signal for a fair catch.

Stanley Penock, Harvard's star guard, will be off the field for a fortnight, owing to an injury to his shoulder sustained in practice Tuesday.

Northwestern's football squad was strengthened Wednesday by the addition of Greer, end, Nobis, candidate for end; Godfrey, guard; Zimmer, end; and Grasset, candidate for fullback. Coach Grady Wednesday gave the squad some plain talk for inability to tackle in Tuesday's scrimmage. Hightower and Sharp, running back punts, carried the ball the entire length of the field repeatedly. "Poor tackling is the surest indication of a green squad," said Grady.

Paul Hardinger, 220 pounder, who was going to play guard at the university of Illinois, Wednesday reported to Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago. Burt Hardinger, 215 pound tackle of Chicago, induced his brother to make the change. The new arrival will not be eligible to play until next year.

The surprise of Tuesday's practice at Wisconsin was the work of Gene Van Gent, 220 pound basketball captain, at halfback. Coach Juneau said Wednesday that Van Gent was assured of a regular berth on the team if he continued to play the aggressive sort of game he did yesterday.

Coach Hawley of Iowa Wednesday sent a football and two dozen suit of discarded armor to the state penitentiary at Anamosa. The coach received a letter several days ago from convict No. 7 asking for the equipment in order to organize two football teams in the prison.

PROFESSORS VICTIMS OF CANNIBALS, SAYS REPORT

OLIVET, Mich., Sept. 24.—Efforts are being made here to confirm reports from San Francisco that Dr. Hubert L. Clark and Dr. David Tennant, scientists sent by the Carnegie institute to do research work for Marine Life, have been killed by cannibals in German New Guinea.

A despatch Wednesday from Harvard whence the men were sent, says the report is not confirmed there. Dr. Clark was professor of biology in Olivet college and left here in 1905 to become curator in the Harvard museum, and Dr. Tennant graduated from Olivet in 1904, and afterwards became professor of biology at Bryn Mawr.

ANDERSON, Ind.—Newspapermen of this city will be the guests at the county fair next Sunday, when Sheriff Black will act as host. They will not eat in the cell rooms.

TAKES DOSE PRESCRIBED FOR HIS HORSE, DIES

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 24.—L. D. Thompson, a farmer, had a sick horse. A veterinary said it was a cold and left some medicine. Thompson also had a cold and after giving his horse the prescribed dose, swallowed one just like it. He will die; the horse is getting well.

GARY, Ind.—Charges of slugging were made here Monday night by the Knights Democrats and the citizens' men at the corner of Nineteenth and Washington st., in which some of the combatants were so badly injured that they received medical attention. The slugging season is a result of the opening of the municipal election and has begun in earnest, and the police have been active keeping down riots on street corners.
